

Relationship between Vaccines & Fuji Iceberg Water

To whom it may concern,

Mr. Fujioka explaining the benefits of vaccination & drinking Fuji Iceberg Water after vaccination.

The working principle of an inactivated vaccine is to inactivate a virus similar to CV-19 first, and then inject the inactivated virus into the human body, so that the body's immune system remembers the structure of the virus and resists similar viruses get effect of immunity. However, if the vaccine virus is not completely inactivated, then the injection of the vaccine becomes an injection of live virus, which directly causes infection of the vaccinated person, or if the vaccinator encounters a virus with a relatively large degree of mutation, and the structure is different from the inactivated virus that has been injected into the human body, the human body does not have immunity.

Fuji iceberg water can inactivate any virus, whether it is a virus that has not been completely inactivated in the inactivated vaccine or a virus with a large degree of mutation, it will be inactivated in the human body after drinking Fuji Iceberg Water. Live viruses will be inactivated by Fuji Iceberg Water to ensure the safety of vaccinators. A virus with a large degree of mutation enters the human body and is inactivated by Fuji Iceberg Water to form a new immune system that enables the human body to develop immunity to the mutated virus.

The mRNA vaccine teaches our cells how to make a protein, or even a protein fragment, to trigger an immune response in our body. If the real virus enters our body, this immune response that produces antibodies can protect us from infection. Fuji Iceberg water will not have any effect with this style of vaccines but because Fuji Iceberg water can help the infected people to recover & become healthier in general, to drink Fuji Iceberg water will make the vaccinated people safer even with mRNA vaccine.

The inactivated vaccine is to inactivate the virus in vitro (completed in a laboratory or a pharmaceutical company), and then inject the virus corpse (inactivated vaccine) into the human body so that the body's immune system can remember the shape of the virus to produces immunity. Fuji iceberg water inactivates viruses in human body. Since the molecular key of Fuji Iceberg Water are the same as those of human tissues, when people drink Fuji Iceberg Water, they will quickly enter the human tissues. Any virus that invades the human body will be affected by Fuji Iceberg Water , the virus is inactivated in the body. This not only cures the patient who is infected with the virus, but also allows the patient to gain immunity to any virus that has been inactivated in his body. It is equivalent to the human body creating a safe vaccine in the body.

Anyhow ,Fuji Iceberg Water is a solution for cure of CV-19 infection & beyond, not a vaccine. But for patients cured by drinking Fuji Iceberg Water, in addition to inactivating the virus infected by the patient and curing the patient, Fuji Iceberg Water is equivalent to creating a vaccine in patient body that can prevent infection of the same virus in the patient.

Conclusion:Fuji Iceberg Water does not cancel the effects of vaccines but it actually improves the immunity to SARS-COV-2 viruses.

Thank you.

Ken Fujioka
